It was January 1992 when we introduced an alarm clock that would eventually become an iconic piece of clock collectors and aficionados. After 25 years, RHYTHM is proud to reintroduce the Rock n' Roll Chicken. Back in true retro form, this rocking bird returns in its original packaging and its original wake up call. The alarm is the original "hey baby wake up, come and dance with me" melody. Don't miss the opportunity to catch this chicken this time around as this release will be limited.
